

The ideal pass when you want unlimited travel on the railway network of England only. Explore the beauty of the Lake District or visit Stratford upon Avon and so much more that England has to offer.

The Britrail England Consecutive Pass is valid for any 3, 4, 8, 15, 22 days or 1 months consecutive travel.

A day of rail travel is a 24 hour period from midnight to midnight. This allows for unlimited travel on any number of trains for each day of use.

General information

- To start using the pass it must be validated at a British train station before your first journey.
- This pass does not cover the London Underground

Are passholder seat reservations compulsory?

Seat reservations on trains within Britain are not compulsory they are optional. You can purchase your rail pass and just simply hop on the train you wish to travel on. Of course it depends on which class you purchase. If you purchase First class then you can sit anywhere in First class and the same rule applies for a Second class pass. If you have a certain date and time you would like to travel on then you can reserve a seat. Note: we generally cannot book seat reservations on trains within Britain if the journey is shorter than 2hrs. We also cannot book overnight services in Britain.
